

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ADDENDA TO VOLUME 1.

Through some unaccountable accident the manuscript sheet containing the names and records of the officers mentioned below failed to be arranged and entered in the alphabetical list of officers in volume 1.

The discovery was made too late to have this addenda inserted in that volume.

NOTES AND ABBREVIATIONS.

1. All names in Part II are arranged alphabetically, and where there are more than one of the same name they appear according to priority of service.
2. An asterisk (*) before a name indicates that the officer attained the rank of brigadier or major-general either by regular or brevet commission in the regular or volunteer forces.
3. Following the name of each officer will be found, first, the State or country where born, and, second, the State from which originally appointed, but when this appears only once it indicates the State whence appointed, the place of birth not being known.
4. Cadet M A in bold-face type indicates that the officer graduated at the United States Military Academy; the adjoining date when he entered that institution; the figure in parentheses his standing in the graduating class, and his first appointment the date of his graduation, except in the class of 1901, which was graduated February 18, and were commissioned in the Army to rank from February 2, 1901.
5. All data relating to appointments or commissions has been obtained from original records of the War Department, supplemented from other authentic sources, or supplied by living officers or the families of those deceased.
6. No record is herein given of appointments or commissions that were not accepted. Such as were declined, revoked, or canceled, and under which no service was rendered, have been omitted.
7. All commissions, appointments, promotions, casualties, etc., have been added or revised up to the time each page was put in type.
8. A work of this dimension, covering so long a period, although compiled and revised with the utmost care, will doubtless contain some errors or omissions, and the compiler will take it kindly to be informed of any that may be discovered.

FIELD OFFICERS OF VOLUNTEERS AND MILITIA IN THE SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES DURING THE WAR OF THE REBEL- LION, 1861-1865.

[NOTE.—Since 1889, under the remuster acts of Congress, many of the officers of volunteer regiments were remustered in an advanced grade or given earlier dates of commissions that do not appear here, as the compiler did not have access to the files of the Record and Pension office where the records were amended to show such remuster.]

STRENGTH OF THE ARMY AND LOSSES IN THE SEVERAL WARS, ETC.

WAR OF THE REVOLUTION.

The exact number of men in the Continental Establishment furnished by each State in the War of the Revolution is not known, but an approximate estimate made by Colonel Pierce, Paymaster-General of the Continental Army, and the Treasury accountants in 1787 is as shown in the first column of this table; many of these, however, served two or more times. In addition, however, all the States furnished regiments or independent battalions or companies of State troops, militia, rangers, riflemen, etc., for brief services, who were called out to assist the Continental Army in emergencies, or were raised to protect and defend their own States, many of whom were in service at two or more periods. The exact number thus furnished for short periods of service can not be given, but upon examination of various estimates I believe the figures shown in the second column of the table to be, in round figures, approximately correct:

	Continental Army.	State troops, militia, etc.	Total
New Hampshire.....	12,497	4,000	16,497
Massachusetts.....	67,907	20,000	87,907
Rhode Island.....	5,908	4,000	9,908
Connecticut.....	31,939	9,000	40,939
New York.....	17,781	10,000	27,781
New Jersey.....	10,726	7,000	17,726
Pennsylvania.....	25,678	10,000	35,678
Delaware.....	2,386	1,000	3,386
Maryland.....	13,912	9,000	22,912
Virginia.....	26,678	30,000	56,678
North Carolina.....	7,263	13,000	20,263
South Carolina.....	6,417	20,000	26,417
Georgia.....	2,679	8,000	10,679
Total.....	231,771	145,000	376,771

The total here given is excessive as to the number that served in the Army, for many served two, three, and even more terms. Many of the men who entered the service in 1775 reentered in 1776, again in 1777, and again in 1780, and were therefore counted two, three, or more times, but from the best information attainable it is fair to assume that the number of individuals actually engaged in the military service during the war did not exceed 250,000.

There is nothing of record showing the casualties sustained.

INDIAN WAR WITH THE NORTHWEST INDIANS, 1790 TO AUGUST, 1795.

The returns of the Army covering this period are incomplete, but from the best data obtainable it appears that the force under General Harmar in September, 1790, consisted of 320 regulars and 1,103 militia or levies. The same Army under General St. Clair in October, 1791, consisted of a total force of 2,300 men, regulars and levies, and under General Wayne in August, 1795, of 2,843 regulars and 2,387 volunteers. The casualties reported during this war were 61 officers and 835 men killed; 35 officers and 401 men wounded; regulars and volunteers not separated.

WAR WITH NORTHWEST INDIANS, NOVEMBER, 1811, TO OCTOBER, 1813.

No separate return of the troops engaged with the Indians is of record, but it appears that the troops so employed were included in the troops employed during the war with Great Britain, 1812 to 1815, likewise those engaged in the Creek Indian war, July, 1813, to August, 1814.

WAR WITH GREAT BRITAIN, JUNE 18, 1812, TO FEBRUARY 17, 1815.

The regular force in service at the commencement of the war was 414 officers, 5,149 men, aggregate 5,563. The total number of officers and men in the regular service during the war can not be given. The strength of the Regular Army at different periods of the war is the nearest approximation to it.

Date.	Officers.	Men.	Total.
July, 1812.....	301	6,385	6,686
February, 1813.....	1,476	17,560	19,036
September, 1814.....	2,395	35,791	38,186
February, 1815.....	2,396	31,028	33,424

As the enlistments were for five years, it is fair to assume that the aggregate force in the regular service did not exceed 60,000.

The militia and volunteer force during this war is reported to have been 31,210 officers and 440,412 men, a total of 471,622. The majority of this force was, however, employed for short intervals at different times, and many served or enlisted eight or ten times for an emergency; consequently the exact or even approximate number of individuals that actually served can not, with any degree of accuracy, be stated.

The casualties during the war were: Regular Army, 65 officers and 1,235 men killed, 227 officers and 2,758 men wounded; militia and volunteers, 577 killed and 1,015 wounded.

SEMINOLE INDIAN WAR, FLORIDA, NOVEMBER 20, 1817, TO OCTOBER 31, 1818.

The number of regular troops employed during this war is estimated, from the few reports on file, as not to have exceeded 1,100, and that of the volunteers and militia at about 7,000. The casualties reported were 46 killed and 36 wounded.

BLACK HAWK WAR, INCLUDING THE SAC AND FOX INDIAN TROUBLES, 1831 TO 1832.

Regulars employed, 1,341; volunteers, 5,368.

Casualties: Regulars, 5 enlisted men killed and 4 wounded; volunteers, 1 officer and 20 men killed, 4 officers and 31 men wounded.

SEMINOLE OR FLORIDA WAR, NOVEMBER 1, 1835, TO AUGUST 14, 1842.

The regular force employed during this war is reported as 11,169 and 29,953 volunteers. The casualties are reported as follows: Regulars, 18 officers and 310 men killed, 20 officers and 270 men wounded; volunteers, 5 officers and 50 men killed, 24 officers and 243 men wounded.

WAR WITH MEXICO.

The strength of the Regular Army at the commencement of the war (May, 1846) was 637 officers and 5,925 enlisted men. There were added during the war 1,016 officers, and 35,009 men were enlisted between May 1, 1846, and July 5, 1848, making a total of 1,653 officers and 40,934 men; aggregate, 42,587.

The number of volunteers mustered into service during the war, as shown by the report of the Adjutant-General, dated December 3, 1849, was 3,131 officers and 70,129 enlisted men, an aggregate of 73,260.

The casualties from all causes during this period were as follows:

	Regulars.			Volunteers.			Aggregate.

It is estimated that of the three and six months' men raised in 1846 about 4,500 reentered the service in the twelve months' regiments, or those enlisted for the war.

The following in relation to the preceding and other wars or affairs is an extract from the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions for the year ended June 30, 1885:

This exhibits, according to the best obtainable information, the number of men in the service of the nation from the opening of the War of the Revolution. The number in some "wars," as shown by the pension and bounty land law records, seem ludicrously great. He was a soldier entitled to pension or bounty who "served" fourteen days or participated in an engagement, and the "participation" often consisted in watching a hostile ship sail along an all but inaccessible coast and throw short-range shells at distant villages or in holliday marches to jolly rendezvous. By this system of laws the list of soldiery was swelled to incredible numbers, so that the proportion of pensioners to those in "service" seems, when contrasted with the figures of the great war, rather small.

Many of those who were subsequently legislated into service in former wars were never out of sight of their homes, while the almost entire array of the national armies was actually in the theater of war. The greatest army ever under the command of General Washington did not equal a Federal army corps of 1864.

The foregoing table purports to give estimates of enlistments only and not of the actual number of individuals engaged in any particular war. An allowance for reenlistments, transfers, etc., would give a much smaller number of individuals than the table indicates, even for the wars of short duration, especially where militia and volunteers were employed.

To illustrate: In the War of the Revolution a very large proportion of the persons who served rendered from two to five terms, or "tours," of service. The enlistments for the Army of 1775 all terminated at the close of that year or at an early date in the following year. The enlistments in the establishment for 1776 were for one year only, and all terminated at the close of that year or early in the following year. A large number of the men of 1775 reenlisted in the establishment of 1776, and probably nearly all who remained fit for duty again entered the Army at sometime during the war, either in the Continental Establishment or in some one of the militia organizations which were called out for short "tours" of service. The establishment of 1777 was composed of men who enlisted for three years or the war; considerably more than one-half for three years, very many of whom at the expiration of such enlistments again entered the service for terms of six, eight, or nine months. In the militia the number of enlistments represents a much smaller number of individuals than in the regular "Continental establishment." The "tours of duty" were short—from thirty days to three or four months—and it appears from statements in pension claims that the same individual in many cases served on from five to eight such "tours," including sometimes two or three "tours" on a war vessel or privateer. It is probably safe to say that the 309,791 enlistments reported in the table do not represent more than half that number of individuals.

It will be noticed that in the war of 1812 about five-sixths (?) of the "troops engaged" were militia or volunteers. The "tours" of service of these militia organizations varied from less than fourteen days to two or three months. It is well known that the same person rendered several successive tours of such service, and it is not probable that the number of individuals who served in that war will amount to more than 50 per cent of the number of enlistments reported in the table.

The same percentage will hold good for the Creek Indian war of 1813-14, and probably for the Florida Indian war of 1835-1842 and nearly all of the other Indian wars prior to the latter date. It will not, however, apply to the Mexican war or the later Indian wars, where the proportion of regulars was much larger, or where the seat of war was more remote from the thickly peopled part of the country.

Attention is called to the following authorities for data given in the table and for other remarks:

Revolutionary war.—Report of Gen. H. Knox, Secretary of War, May 10, 1790; American State Papers, Military Affairs, vol. 1, pp. 14, et seq. Returns on file with the Washington papers in the Department of State, and Navy of the United States, by Lieut. George F. Emmons, U. S. Navy, pp. 40, et seq., and 26, et seq. The number of pensioners does not include those paid by the several States who died or were discontinued prior to the transfer of the pension rolls to the General Government in 1791 or the pensions of certain officers of Virginia State regiments which were assumed by the General Government under the act of July 5, 1832, and which were in part settled in the Treasury Department.

Northwestern Indian war (Generals Harmer, St. Clair, and Wayne).—American State Papers, Military Affairs, vol. 1, pp. 20, et seq., p. 36 and p. 67. Also Lossing's Field-Book, War of 1812, pp. 51 and 52.

War with France.—Navy of the United States, by Lieut. George F. Emmons, pp. 48, et seq.

War with Tripoli.—Navy of the United States, by Lieut. George F. Emmons, pp. 54, et seq.

Northwestern Indian war (General Harrison).—Lossing's Field-Book, War of 1812, p. 201; Niles's Weekly Register, vol. 10, p. 154, and official report of Adjutant-General U. S. Army to Pension Office, dated January 6, 1872.

Creek Indian war, 1813-14.—Lossing's Field-Book, War of 1812, pp. 749, 752 to 759, 761 to 777. Some of the militia and volunteers engaged in this war may have served and been included in the estimate for the war of 1812.

War of 1812-1815 with Great Britain.—American State Papers, Military Affairs, vol. 6, p. 927; Report of Third Auditor United States Treasury, showing number of militia and volunteers; Records of the Adjutant-General U. S. Army for Regular Army; Niles's Weekly Register, vol. 9, p. 221, for part of Navy; and Navy of the United States, by Lieut. George F. Emmons, pp. 56, et seq., and pp. 170, et seq., for Navy and privateers.

Seminole Indian war, 1817-18.—American State Papers, Military Affairs, vol. 1, p. 718, and vol 2, p. 104, and returns in Adjutant-General's Office. A count now being made in the Second Auditor's Office United States Treasury, will doubtless increase the estimate of the number of "troops engaged."

Black Hawk Indian war, 1831-32.—Report of Adjutant-General U. S. Army to Congress, March 4, 1872. Wisconsin Historical Collections, vol. 8, pp. 265-268 and 311-316. The count being made in the Second Auditor's Office, United States Treasury, may somewhat change the estimates of "troops engaged."

Cherokee removal or disturbances, 1838-39.—Report of Adjutant-General U. S. Army to Congress, March 4, 1872. The count being made in the Second Auditor's Office may change these estimates.

Creek Indian war or disturbance, 1836-37.—Report of the Commissioner of Pensions, 1875, which has not been fully verified. Some of the troops engaged in this war may have served and been included in the estimate for the Florida war. The count in the Second Auditor's Office may affect this estimate.

Florida Indian war, 1835-1843.—Report of the Commissioner of Pensions, 1875, only partially verified. The count in the Second Auditor's Office will doubtless change this estimate somewhat.

Aroostook disturbances.—Estimate from report of the Commissioner of Pensions, 1875.

Mexican war, 1846-1848.—Estimate of Pension Office. Congressional Record, 1884, p. 4505. Executive Documents H. R. 48, second session Twenty-ninth Congress, and 62, first session Thirtieth Congress, Navy of the United States, by Lieut. George F. Emmons, pp. 79, et seq. The Regular Army, amounting to 11,299, and the Marine Corps, not actually at seat of war, are not included in the table.

Apache, Navajo, and Utah Indian wars, 1849-1856.—Report of Adjutant-General U. S. Army to Congress, March 4, 1872, for volunteers, and estimate for regulars.

Comanche Indian war, 1854.—Report of Adjutant-General U. S. Army to Congress, March 4, 1872.

Seminole Indian war, 1856-1858.—Report of Adjutant-General to Congress, March 4, 1872.

^a Colored troops organized at various stations in the States in rebellion, embracing all not specifically credited to States, and which can not be so assigned.

The strength of the Regular Army at the commencement of the war was 15,215 officers and men. There were enlisted between April 20, 1861, and May 1, 1865, about 62,000 men. The greater portion of these are, however, included in the above table, the States being credited with the number of men enlisted within their respective States.

Deaths in the U. S. Army during the war.

According to the latest official compilation, the whole number of deaths among officers and enlisted men of the Federal Army during the war of the rebellion, as shown by the official records, was 359,528. The actual number, however, must be somewhat larger, because it is known that many of the records, especially those of Southern prisons, are far from complete.

LIST OF FORTS, BATTERIES, NAMED CAMPS, REDOUBTS, RESERVATIONS, GENERAL HOSPITALS, NATIONAL CEMETERIES, ETC., ESTABLISHED OR ERECTED IN THE UNITED STATES FROM ITS EARLIEST SETTLEMENT TO DATE.

Many of the forts and structures named were erected by the early settlers for their own protection, and all vestige of them has now disappeared. The exact locations of many are not positively known at the present day, but reference is made to them in State histories, State papers, etc. Those in bold-faced type are now occupied by troops or are under the control of the War Department.

The data available for consultation are known to be incomplete, and may be erroneous in some instances.

^b The 2 majors shown on the line of general and staff of the legion are majors of the Artillery Battalion and Light Dragoons.

NOTE.—This table exhibits practically the organization of the Army from September 4, 1792, to November 1, 1796, with the exception that in February, 1793, the President appointed lieutenant-colonels to the command of the sublegions, and under the act of May 9, 1794, the Corps of Artillerists and Engineers was organized and incorporated with the Artillery Battalion, serving in the legion. This corps was organized into 4 battalions, and consisted of 1 lieutenant-colonel commandant, 1 adjutant, 1 surgeon, 4 majors, 4 adjutants and paymasters, 4 surgeons' mates, 16 companies, each to consist of 1 captain, 2 lieutenants, 2 cadets, 4 sergeants, 4 corporals, 42 privates, 10 artificers, and 2 musicians.

NOTE.—This act gave a new organization to the Army and reduced the aggregate force as above shown—all supernumeraries considered discharged after the last of October following. The Quartermaster-General, Inspector, and Paymaster-General might be taken from the line or not; if from the line, they received, each, $25 additional pay per month. Major Cushing, of the First Infantry, was the Inspector.

NOTE.—This act gave one additional regiment of "artillerists and engineers" to the force then in service. The first section of the act of March 3, 1797, repeals the third section of the act of May 30, 1796, together with all other parts thereof as relates to the major-general and his staff and the brigadier-general, and provides for the staff given in this organization. The staff provided for consists of 1 Quartermaster-General, 1 Paymaster-General, 1 brigade major, 1 brigade inspector, and 1 Judge-Advocate, the last 3 to be taken from the line. The law is very vague and obscure with respect to the character and rank of the two first-named staff officers. [See third section act March 3, 1797, and section 12 of the act of May 30, 1796.] Those taken from the line received $25 additional pay per month.

^d Two companies.

^e Eight companies.

"Artillery, cavalry and infantry" [Provisional] exclusive of commissioned officers. Supposed "Provisional Army," 6,130; total, 10,000.

NOTE.—Four aids-de-camp, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and two secretaries are allowed the Lieutenant-General; the major-generals (number not specified, I will put it down at 2) and the Inspector-General, who has the rank of major-general, are each entitled to 2 aids, of the rank of major. [It is not perceived that aids-de-camp, having field rank, were necessarily taken from the line. It is believed they were.] The Adjutant-General has the rank of brigadier-general. The act provides for assistant inspectors (number not limited), who shall also be "deputy adjutant-generals," with additional pay of $8 per month; a brigade inspector and subinspector to each brigade, with additional pay of $6 per month, all of whom are to be taken from the line of the Army. The organization exhibited in this table differs from the preceding one in the aggregate only; the difference of the increase of the general staff, which being specifically enumerated, can be easily inserted. On the other hand, the noncommissioned officers and privates "which may be" called into actual service (a number of troops not exceeding 10,000) are in part omitted. That is to say, the 3,870 enlisted men found in this table being deducted from the 10,000 leaves 6,130, and the requisite commissioned officers, and that portion being unorganized, are therefore not included in the analysis of this table.—[See the second section of this act.]

NOTE.—This act authorizes the President to raise in addition to the military establishment 12 regiments of infantry and 6 troops of light dragoons which, together with the 2 troops previously in service, "shall form a regiment." The organization of the whole body of infantry is changed: 3 additional brigadier-generals, 1 inspector of the artillery, and 4 chaplains are provided for. He is authorized to appoint 4 teachers of the arts and sciences for the instruction of the artillery and engineers (who are considered to be more civil than military officers).

*Taken from the line and excluded from the total commissioned and aggregate.

NOTE.—The first act of March 2, 1799, regulates the medical establishment and gives 1 apothecary-general, 2 deputies, 1 purveyor, and a suitable number of hospital surgeons' mates. The second act of March 2, 1799, gave eventual authority to the President to augment the Army by raising, in addition to the military force of the United States, 24 regiments of infantry, 1 regiment and 1 battalion of riflemen, 1 battalion of artillerists and engineers, 3 regiments of cavalry, which are included in the above organization. The first and second sections of this act expired by the operation of the eleventh section; that is, the expiration of the next ensuing session of Congress. The above act (March 3, 1799) recognizes the whole military establishment, authorizes the appointment of a commander of the Army, to be styled "General of the Armies of the United States," and abolishes the title of lieutenant-general; gives a quartermaster-general of the Army, with the rank of major-general; deputy quartermaster-general, rank of lieutenant-colonel; division quartermasters, brigade quartermasters, deputy inspector-general, to be ex officio deputy adjutant-general; the adjutant-general of the Army to be ex officio assistant inspector-general, with division inspector and brigade inspectors; deputy paymasters, 2 engineers separate from the corps of artillerists and engineers, 1 inspector of fortifications; authorizes the President to raise and organize a battalion of riflemen, to consist of the same number of officers and men as a battalion of infantry, and provides that cornets and ensigns shall thereafter be styled second lieutenants; the deputy inspector-general, division, brigade, and assistant inspectors, assistant adjutant-general, division and brigade quartermasters, deputy paymasters, the inspector of artillery, inspector of fortifications, aids-de-camp, and judge-advocate to be taken from the line. It will be seen that the adjutant, quartermaster, and paymaster of each regiment are, in addition to the number of subalterns, required for the complement of company organization. The rank of general was not conferred upon General Washington, for whom it was intended, and he remained in service as lieutenant-general until his death; nor was the quartermaster-general appointed to the rank of major-general.

NOTE.—Regimental paymasters, quartermasters, surgeons and mates, cadets, and quartermaster-sergeants are not provided for the First and Second Infantry, which constitute the difference between the peace establishment of 1802 and the additional force under the act of 1806. [This discrepancy in organizations of regiments of Infantry at the same time in service is somewhat remarkable.]

The act of February 28, 1803, provides for two teachers of music to be added to the regiment of artillery, and authorizes the President to appoint one teacher of the French language and one teacher of drawing to be attached to the Corps of Engineers, whose compensation shall not exceed the pay and emoluments of a captain of the line. The commanding officer of the Corps of Engineers is also authorized to enlist 1 artificer and 18 men to aid in making practical experiments, etc.

The act of March 26, 1804, provides for 6 additional surgeons' mates. This act (April 12, 1808) provides for an addition to the military establishment of 5 regiments of infantry, 1 regiment of riflemen, 1 regiment of light artillery, 1 regiment of light dragoons, 2 brigadier-generals, 2 brigade inspectors, 2 brigade quartermasters, 5 hospital surgeons, 16 surgeons' mates, and 1 chaplain to each brigade. The teacher of French and the teacher of drawing are not included in the organization, their functions being considered of a civil nature; the brigade inspectors to be taken from the line, and the brigade quartermasters from the subalterns of the line.

NOTE.—The organization here given to the staff differs materially from that provided for by the act. The denomination of staff officers was provisionally retained by President Madison, who judged that the interests of the service necessarily required their continuance in the Army until they could, with convenience, be discharged. This staff, with some modification, was made permanent by the act of April 24, 1816. (See section 10.)

Act of March 3, 1815, provides for 4 brigade inspectors and 4 brigade quartermasters, the first to be taken from the line; the latter, together with aide-de-camp, adjutants, regimental quartermasters, and paymasters, from the subalterns of the line.

The Ordnance Department is preserved. It is a distinct establishment, with a view to a state of peace as well as a state of war. This important department constitutes a part of the peace establishment, and owes its organization to the act of February 8, 1815. The artificers and mechanics provided for are as follows, viz: Master armors, carriage makers, and blacksmiths; armors, carriage makers, blacksmiths, artificers, and laborers, the number of which was not limited, and therefore are not exhibited in the table showing the organization. Under the second act of March 3, 1815, eighth section, each quartermaster-general attached to a separate army was authorized, with the approbation and under the direction of the Secretary of War, to appoint as many forage, wagon, and barrack masters and to employ as many artificers, mechanics, and laborers as the public service might require.

"Four of the 12 assistant adjutant-generals (captains), 19 of the 45 assistant quartermasters, and 7 of the 16 commissaries of subsistence (captains), belonging also to regiments and being included in their strength to avoid counting them twice, are excluded as staff officers from the columns "Total commissioned" and "Aggregate" of their respective departments. The regimental and staff commissions held by these officers are of unequal grades, and hence they are not affected by the provisions of the seventh section of the act of June 18, 1846.

by the act of August 3, 1861, section 31, assistant quartermasters who shall have served continuously fourteen years as captains are entitled to promotion as majors. Three have been thus promoted, and there are consequently 3 quartermasters more and 3 assistant quartermasters less reported than otherwise would have been the case. By the act of March 3, 1863 (section 9), a lieutenant of engineers, topographical engineers, and ordnance, having served "fourteen years continuous service as lieutenant," is entitled to promotion to the rank of captain, but such promotion is not to increase the whole number of officers in either of said corps beyond the number previously fixed by law.

d/ The 23 aids-de-camp, being taken from regiments in the strength of which they are included to avoid counting them twice, are excluded as staff officers from the columns "Total commissioned," and "Aggregate."

The number of additional units designated as "Aggregate" authorized by the act of August 5, 1861, is unlimited. The adjutants of artillery and infantry (24), the adjutant of the Sixth Cavalry, the battalion adjutants of infantry (27), all the regimental quartermasters (30), and all the battalion quartermasters and commissaries (30) being taken from the subalterns and accounted for in their several regiments as belonging to companies, are excluded as regimental staff officers from the columns "Total commissioned", and "Aggregate."

of the fourth section of the act of April 29, 1912, "making further provisions for the Corps of Engineers," and the seventeenth section of the act of March 3, 1867, for promoting distinguished noncommissioned officers, one brevet second lieutenant is allowed to every company. The number authorized is consequently 443. There are none now attached to the Army.

a By the act of April 5, 1862 (sec. 2), "providing for the organization of the Ordnance Department," the number of ordnance sergeants can not exceed "one for each military post." The number actually in service is 41.

b By the act of August 16, 1866 (sec. 2), "providing for the organization of the Medical and Hospital Department of the Army," the number of hospital stewards can not exceed "one for each military post." The number actually in service is 112.

c The number of master wagoners and wagons allowed in the Quartermaster's Department is limited only by the exigencies of the service.

d Two companies in each of the First, Second, Third, and Fourth regiments of Artillery, being equipped as light artillery, are allowed in consequence "sixty-four."

e Instead of "forty-two" privates per company. (See act "to increase the rank and file of the Army," etc. (sec. 2), the President is authorized, whenever the exigencies of the service require it, to increase to 74 the number of privates in any company "serving at the several military posts on the Western frontier and at remote and distant stations." In the stable minimum or fixed organization is given, viz., 60 privates to a company of dragoons, 64 to a company of light artillery and riflemen, and 42 to one of artillery and infantry. Under the authority vested in him, the President has directed that the number of privates be carried up to 74 in the several companies serving on the coast of Florida, in Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Texas, New Mexico, California, Oregon, and Washington Territory, as well as in those stationed at Fort Ripley, on the Upper Mississippi; Fort Ridgely, on the Minnesota River; Fort Arbuckle, on Wild Horse Creek; Fort Washita, on the False Washita River; or elsewhere in the Indian country west of the Mississippi. There being 69 companies serving at or en route to these distant stations, the authorized increase in the number of privates is 1,974, making the "total enlisted" (as the troops are now posted or en route) 39,238, and the "aggregate" 41,247. If all the companies belonging to the old "regiments" (196) were serving at the distant stations described, the additional number of privates allowed would then be 5,630, thus increasing the "total enlisted" to 42,864 and the "aggregate" to 48,993.

^aThe military secretary to the lieutenant-general and the 43 aids-de-camp, being taken from the corps or regiments in the strength of which they are included, are, to avoid counting them twice, excluded as military secretary and as aids from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate."

^bSection 13 of the act of July 28, 1866, provides that as vacancies occur in the grades of major and captain in the Quartermaster's Department no appointment to fill the same shall be made until the number of majors shall be reduced to 12 and the number of captains to 30, and thereafter the number of officers in each of said grades shall continue to conform to said reduced numbers.

Two of the assistant quartermasters and 1 of the majors in the Bureau of Military Justice, being also commissioned officers in regiments in the strength of which they are included, are, to avoid counting them twice, excluded as staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate" of their department. The regimental and staff commissions held by these officers are of unequal grades and hence they are not affected by the provisions of the seventh section of the act of June 18, 1846.

^cBy section 9 of the act of March 3, 1853, a lieutenant of engineers and ordnance, having served fourteen years continuously as lieutenant, is entitled to promotion to the rank of captain; but such promotion is not to increase the whole number of officers in either of said corps.

^dThe adjutant and quartermaster allowed to the battalion staff officers, not being supernumerary officers, but being included in the strength of the corps to which they belong, are, to avoid counting them twice, excluded as battalion staff officers from the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate" of their department.

^eAssistant surgeons have the rank, pay, and emoluments of lieutenants of cavalry for the first three years' service, and are entitled to promotion to, and to receive the pay and emoluments of, the grade of captain after three years' service. Surgeons and assistant surgeons of volunteers who have served three years as such prior to appointment in the Regular Army are included in the benefits of this provision, being eligible for promotion to the grade of captain immediately upon their appointment in the Regular Army.

^fUnder the fourth section of the act of April 29, 1912, "making further provisions for the Corps of Engineers," and the seventeenth section of the act of March 3, 1847, for promoting distinguished noncommissioned officers, 1 brevet second lieutenant is allowed to every company. The number authorized is consequently 635.

^gThe chaplains to the colored regiments authorized by the act of July 28, 1868, being appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, are included in the columns "total commissioned" and "aggregate." The chaplains allowed to other regiments in the service not being commissioned officers are excluded from those columns.

^hMilitary storekeepers in the Quartermaster's Department are entitled to the rank, pay, and emoluments of captains of cavalry.

The ordnance storekeeper and paymaster at the National Armory at Springfield shall have the rank, pay, and emoluments of major of cavalry, and all other ordnance storekeepers shall have the rank, pay, and emoluments of captains of cavalry.

ⁱOne additional veterinary surgeon is allowed to each of the 4 new regiments of cavalry authorized by this act, whose compensation shall be $100 per month. Being civilians, these additional veterinary surgeons are excluded from the columns "total enlisted" and "aggregate."

- ^a The number of ordnance sergeants is limited to the number of military posts. There are now in service 115.
- ^b The Secretary of War is authorized to appoint as many hospital stewards as the service may require. One hospital steward is also allowed to each military post. The total number of hospital stewards now in service is 459.
- ^c In the table the minimum organization of the artillery and infantry regiments is given, viz: Fifty companies of artillery (not mounted), with 4 sergeants, 8 corporals, and 61 privates, and 10 companies (mounted), with 6 sergeants, 12 corporals, and 122 privates to a company, and 50 privates to each company of infantry. If all of the companies of the infantry arm were increased to their maximum strength (100 privates) the total number of privates in the infantry regiments would be 45,000. If in addition to this, the artillery regiments were increased to the full complement allowed by law, the "total enlisted" would be 77,259 and the "aggregate" 80,258.
- ^d A superintendent is allowed to each national cemetery, to be appointed by the President, who shall have the pay and emoluments of an ordnance sergeant. Being civilians, they are excluded from the columns "total enlisted" and "aggregate." There are now 39 national cemeteries established.
- ^e Indian scouts to the number of 1,000 may be employed in the Territories and Indian country, who shall receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. Not being enlisted men, they are excluded from the table.
- ^f The number of master wagons and wagons allowed in the Quartermaster's Department is limited only by the exigencies of the service.

^aThe 6 aids-de-camp (colonels) to the general, the 2 (lieutenant-colonels) to the lieutenant-general, the 15 (captains or lieutenants) to the major-general, and the 16 (lieutenants) to the brigadier-general, making in all 35 aids-de-camp, and also the military secretary (lieutenant-colonel) to the lieutenant-general, being taken from the corps or regiments in the strength of which they are included, are, to avoid counting them twice, excluded as aids and military secretary from the column "total commissioned," and "aggregate."

^bSection 13 of the act of July 28, 1866, provides that as vacancies occur in the grades of major and captain in the Quartermaster's Department no appointment to fill the same shall be made until the number of majors shall be reduced to 12 and the number of captains to 30, and thereafter the number of officers in each of said grades shall continue to conform to said reduced numbers.

One of the assistant quartermasters being also a commissioned officer in his regiment, in the strength of which he is included, is to avoid counting him twice, excluded as a staff officer from the column "total commissioned," and "aggregate," of his department. The regimental and staff commissions held by this officer are of unequal grades, and hence he is not affected by the provisions of the seventh section of the act of June 13, 1846.

^cBy section 9 of the act of March 3, 1853, a lieutenant of engineers and ordnance, having served fourteen years continuously as lieutenant, is entitled to promotion to the rank of captain; but such promotion is not to increase the whole number of officers in either of said corps.

^dThe adjutant and quartermaster allowed to the battalion of engineers, not being supernumerary officers, but being included in the strength of the corps to which they belong, are, to avoid counting them twice, excluded as battalion staff officers from the column "total commissioned," and "aggregate," of their department.

^eAssistant surgeons have the rank, pay, and emoluments of lieutenants of cavalry for the first three years' service, and are entitled to promotion to, and to receive the pay and emoluments of, the grade of captain after three years' service. Surgeons and assistant surgeons of volunteers who have served three years as such prior to appointment in the Regular Army are included in the benefits of this provision, being eligible for promotion to the grade of captain immediately upon their appointment in the Regular Army. [Section 17, act July 28, 1866; section 6, act March 2, 1867.]

^fUnder the fourth section of the act of April 29, 1812, "making further provision for the Corps of Engineers," and the seventeenth section of the act of March 3, 1847, for promoting distinguished noncommissioned officers, one brevet second lieutenant is allowed to every company. The number authorized is consequently 435.

^gThe chaplains of the colored regiments (4) authorized by the act of July 28, 1866, and the post chaplains (30) authorized by the act of March 2, 1849, rank as captains of infantry. [Section 7, act March 2, 1867.]

^hThe ordnance storekeeper and paymaster at the National Armory at Springfield has the rank, pay, and emoluments of major of cavalry, and all other storekeepers have the rank, pay, and emoluments of captains of cavalry. [Section 7, act March 2, 1867.]

ⁱOne additional veterinary surgeon is allowed to each of the 4 new regiments of cavalry authorized by the act of July 28, 1866, whose compensation shall be $100 per month. Being civilians, these additional veterinary surgeons are excluded from the organization table.

^jIn the table the minimum organization of the regiments is given, viz. 60 privates to each company of cavalry, 55 companies of artillery (not mounted), with 2 first and second lieutenants, 4 sergeants, 8 corporals, and 64 privates; and 5 companies (mounted), with 2 first and 2 second lieutenants, 6 sergeants, 12 corporals, and 122 privates to a company, and 50 privates to each company of infantry. If all the companies were increased to the maximum—cavalry 78 privates and infantry 100 privates—the total number of privates in the cavalry regiments would be 9,360, and in the infantry 25,000. If, in addition to this, the artillery regiments were increased to the full complement allowed by law, the "total commissioned" would be 2,332, the "total enlisted" 53,296, and the "aggregate" 55,618.

A superintendent is allowed to each national cemetery to be appointed by the Secretary of War, who shall have the pay and emoluments of an ordnance sergeant. Being civilians, they are excluded from the organization table. There are now 60 superintendents employed. [Section 7, act July 28, 1866.]

Indian scouts, to the number of 1,000, may be employed in the Territories and Indian country, who shall receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. There are now in service 474. [Section 6, act July 28, 1866.]

^a The number of ordnance sergeants is limited to the number of military posts. There are now in service 117. [Section 2, act April 5, 1862; section 21, act July 28, 1866.]

^b The Secretary of War is authorized to appoint as many hospital stewards as the service may require. One hospital steward is also allowed to each military post. The total number of hospital stewards now in service is 385. [Section 1, act April 16, 1862; section 17, act July 28, 1866.]

^c In the table the minimum organization of the regiments is given, viz, 60 privates to each company of cavalry, 45 companies of artillery (not mounted), with 2 first and 1 second lieutenants, 4 sergeants, 8 corporals and 64 privates; and 5 companies (mounted), with 2 first and 2 second lieutenants, 6 sergeants, 12 corporals and 122 privates to a company, and 50 privates to each company of infantry. If all the companies were increased to the maximum—cavalry 74 privates and infantry 100 privates—the total number of privates in the cavalry regiments would be 9,360, and in the infantry 25,000. If in addition to this, the artillery regiments were increased to the full complement allowed by law, the "total commissioned" would be 2,332, the "total enlisted," 53,298, and the "aggregate," 55,630.

^d A superintendent is allowed to each national cemetery to be appointed by the Secretary of War, who shall have the pay and emoluments of an ordnance sergeant. Being civilians, they are excluded from the organization table. There are now 60 superintendents employed. [Section 7, act July 28, 1866.]

^e Indian scouts to the number of 1,000 may be employed in the Territories and Indian country, who shall receive the pay and allowances of cavalry soldiers. There are now in service 474. [Section 6, act July 28, 1866.]

^f The number of master wagons and wagons allowed in the Quartermaster's Department is limited only by the exigencies of the service. [Section 3, act August 3, 1861.]

^g Section 6 of the act of March 3, 1869, provides that, until otherwise directed by law, there shall be no new appointments and no promotions in the Adjutant-General's, Inspector-General's, Quartermaster's, Subsistence, Medical, and Pay Departments, Corps of Engineers, and Ordnance Department.

^h Section 2 of the above act provides, also, that there shall be no new commissions, no promotions, and no enlistments in any infantry regiment until the total number of infantry regiments is reduced to 25.

ⁱ In consolidating the 48 regiments of infantry, as directed, the numbers and grades of officers who were rendered supernumerary and are now in service are as follows: Colonels, 17; lieutenant-colonels, 18; majors, 20; captains, 177; first lieutenants, 211; second lieutenants, 55; chaplains, 2.

^aThe act provides that the Artillery Corps shall consist of 30 batteries field and 126 companies coast artillery. [Section 1 of the act approved March 1, 1887, provides that the Hospital Corps of the United States Army shall consist of hospital stewards, acting hospital stewards, and privates; and all necessary hospital services in garrisons, camp, or field (including ambulance service) shall be performed by the members thereof, who shall be regularly enlisted in the military service; said corps shall be permanently attached to the Medical Department, and shall not be included in the effective strength of the Army nor counted as a part of the enlisted force provided by law.]

section 38 of the act also provides that when, in his opinion, the conditions in the Philippine Islands justify such action, the President is authorized to enlist natives of those islands for service in the Army, to be organized as scouts, with such officers as he shall deem necessary for their proper control or as troops or companies, as authorized by this act, for the Regular Army. The President is further authorized, in his discretion, to form companies, organized as companies of the Regular Army, in squadrons or battalions, with officers and noncommissioned officers corresponding to similar organizations in the cavalry and infantry arms. The total number of enlisted men in said native organizations shall not exceed 12,000, and the total enlisted force of the line of the Army, together with such native force, shall not exceed at any one time 100,000.

d Assistant surgeons have the rank, pay, and emoluments of first lieutenant of cavalry for the first five years' service, and the rank, pay, and emoluments of the grade of captain after five years' service. [Sec. 4, act June 23, 1874.]
